

IF YOU DON'T USE IT YOU'LL LOSE IT

change in my understanding and relationship with Him. Even things that I have thought were awesome at the time have palled into insignificance with the revelation He has for me today. God uses different means to reach out to each generation. God is ever moving on and has plans for each one of us today. God spoke through David. (Heb.4:7),
"Today if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts."

God wants us to live in a higher realm, where we are not just making it and surviving each day by our own effort. The apostle Paul gives us his secret: we must keep pressing in! Philippians 3:13-4 says "but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

So many people get bogged down with themselves, their needs and ambitions and fail to realise that God has a special plan just for them. We have been born of God to live our lives in an ever changing higher revelation of Him. God doesn't have a past or a future. He is the God of now, "The Great I Am". He's always in control and always will be. We can live in the now as Jesus said, Lu. 12:22 "Take no thought for your life". If we live and walk with Him we will find that He reveals himself to us in a new way every day and directs and favours our path as we live in the certainty of "His now".

When the sun rises suddenly we see everything where the darkness was, we see it through the reflection of the sun's light. It's the same with God. When we see His light reflected on our lives we really see clearly and can do all things through the unction that He gives for life in Him.

Prayer, I pray Lord Jesus that you will help us take our eyes off ourselves and everything that tries to possess 'the now' in our lives. Help us to realise that living in, 'Your Now' is everything we need. Make us hungry for Your presence, power and love. Keep us open to change and above all help us to reach out for a higher calling in You. Help us to worship You with every aspect of our lives. Amen.

Alan Churchill, Basildon

GET INVOLVED TODAY IN SHARING OUR MESSAGE!

The last year has been significant in the Glory family, since the prayer network was developed. After which there has been a closer contact between all of us.

BECOME A PRAYER PARTNER

If you want to be a prayer partner, part of the online prayer chain then please let us have your e-mail address. As you will read in Sarah Davis's article about the prayer network, God has drawn a large group of us together to pray each day for the needs of the fellowship and the others who have found our prayer website. We have chosen the use of the internet because most of us now have access to e-mail and it is an instant way of asking for prayer and following the situations that develop as we continue to intercede in prayer. Send your e-mail address to ac@glory-people.org and don't forget to keep us up to date with any change of e-mail address.

KEEP INVOLVED WITH THE WEB SITE

In 2008 we are starting to roll out a brand new web site called www.glorypeople.org as a means of constant communication of what is happening in the Glory Fellowship countrywide. Send your e-mail address to ac@glory-people.org so we can update you. The small number of mail shots we currently do are not enough to keep people up to date with our outreaches and meetings. Postal cost and the work involved in just packaging up bulk mail is becoming more expensive and less effective. You will find everything you need to know about us on the site. Please have a good look around and visit it regularly. We aim to have new items daily with notices of events, what's happening everywhere You can be part of it. Send your news and ideas for inclusion in the site, if it fits in with our objectives, to be a blessing.

KEEP IN CONTACT VIA OUR TEXT MESSAGES

In addition to e-mail we are setting up the facility for us to make group mobile text messages to keep you up to date with our fellowship. It is planned to use text messaging to remind you of our events and other news requiring your attention. Please let us have your mobile phone number so that you can be part of the circle of people in contact with us.

TEXT SARAH'S MOBILE FOR EMERGENCY PRAYER

Also we plan to use text messaging as a means of point of contact for urgent prayer. Sarah Davis, who leads our prayer outreach, is the main contact for those needing prayer. For those who can't get to a computer or need prayer urgently, please text your request to our prayer mobile phone 07527071552. Sarah will then add your prayer request to the web where the whole prayer chain will be asked to pray urgently for your needs.

Ask For Prayer If you need prayer please go to our Prayer Network Web Site gloryprayer.net and fill in the Ask for Prayer form.	The Glory Way Finally! BLESSED IN ALL THINGS

Praise God from whom all blessings flow! What a mighty anointing we are experiencing in 2008. I am still, at the beginning of March, experiencing the afterburn of New Years Eve in a meeting where God promised to do so much more that we could ever contain. WE HAVEN'T SEEN ANYTHING YET. It doesn't matter if you are 9 or 90, you can experience a new release of Joy in your salvation than you ever have done. Hallelujah!

I am confident that 2008 is a year where we will become more intimate with Him and that doesn't mean a depressing, lifeless experience. I have found that being intimate with God is the start of an exciting life with Jesus - When HE takes over everything you do. You can be blessed at work, blessed washing up, blessed driving, blessed in all "your coming out and your going in" (Psalm 121). Jesus is more willing to do it than we are to receive it.

2008 is a time when we must make time to be at Glory conventions - I can't remember a time when God did not do something in lives. If you really can't be with us, then get somewhere where the river is flowing. I am more excited about Jesus than I ever have been. I am seeing Him move in amazing ways and we can all be part of that living, supernatural experience. As you read the Glory News, may your soul be lifted up into the heavenly places and give you fresh enthusiasm to go God's way and may it stir up the gift of God in you. As the song goes "Brother Sister do believe it, Open up and you'll receive it, God is doing it again". Chris Wingfield once said to me "If you are not excited about Jesus, GET excited about Jesus". He still saves, heals and delivers - may he do it in all our hearts afresh in 2008. See you on the trail.

IT'S ALL ABOUT JESUS

As we go through life we face many challenges and as Christians we are no different; we imagine that others have it easier than ourselves and are more "blessed" but when you really talk to people you realise that the struggles they face are not harder or easier than your own, just different.

There is a school of thought among some Christians that if you are walking right with the Lord then problems shouldn't come your way. Well I read in my bible that Paul was shipwrecked, imprisoned, beaten and shipwrecked again and yet I'm sure his walk with God was a close one. Yes, we sometimes find ourselves in situations of our own making but the rest is just life. The truth is while we live and breathe and walk this earth in human flesh we will be tested and tried.

that is that we have our wonderful Jesus who is there to counsel and care for us, to heal our bodies, mend our broken hearts and forgive us our transgressions. He sends His Holy Spirit to minister to us to help us make wise decisions when the path ahead is unclear and He surrounds us with His precious love to soothe away our cares. What a wonderful inheritance, a faithful high priest, His grace and mercy available daily. He will watch over us and make us fit for His kingdom, not because of anything we have done, but because of who He is. All that He bore on Calvary was so that we might have life everlasting and free. AMEN.

Karen Churchill. Basildon.

However, there is a greater truth, and these the Last days.

We are determined to play our part in the coming wave of His Glory. Watch this space it will surely come just as He has promised, Britain will be great again.

Let the Blessings of God enfold you all.

Alan and Shirley Churchill. Basildon.

MAKE A DATE TO BE WITH US ON A SUNDAY AT 11am SOON

SPIRIT FILLED POTS

I've been drawn to this thought recently, that these earthly vessels we live in can be flesh pots or spirit pots, it's what we're feeding on. Take Esau for example, who chose to please the fleshly appetite selling his inheritance for a 'bowl of stew', or the children of Israel having been freed from the grip of the enemy who started to complain bitterly, looking at what they didn't have and remembering the 'pots of flesh'. At that time they were failing to see God's mighty deliverance of them and the promise of their inheritance.

I started to see just how much we can be like this at times, being consumed with the things of this world, being amazingly unaware of the divine plan and purposes of God. Give the flesh an inch and it will always take a mile! (that brings a whole new meaning to the phrase "pinching an inch"!).

I've also begun to realise there's really not a lot of point in asking for cleansing of the flesh, for this sin or that, because the flesh has got to die anyway, we ought to just stop feeding it, walking in it and giving it any room. Our repentance should be for refusing to yield to the spirit of God. I'm convinced the answer to spiritual growth and walking after the spirit is humbling ourselves and yielding to the Spirit of God. It will cost us some things but God is gentle with us and knows when we are ready to move on.

My morning prayer is now "Lord I'm emptying out this fleshpot, please pour in your Spirit so that He has full control today and drives this vessel into your perfect will". Thank God it is the content of the vessel that defines it and "greater is He that liveth in me than He that is in the world".

It's a daily walk, and some days may be harder going than others, but the reward is Jesus himself and gaining the characteristics of this abiding Christ. The bible says that if we have the things of the Spirit on our minds 'we will have life and peace', we will please God, and our very mortal bodies will be quickened through Christ dwelling in us. (Romans 8). This is how we will fulfil the calling in Isaiah 61, how we'll hear what the Spirit is saying to the church, how we'll be being aware of His actions having discernment and all the other wonderful gifts of the Spirit. It's life abundant, who could want more than that?

BASILDON NEWS

We will be celebrating the 30 year anniversary of the church here in Basildon this autumn; it seems incredible how time has passed. God has blessed us so much over those years; we started with a tin roofed run down building with an Elsan toilet in a corner room of the kitchen only 2 foot square. Today we have been blessed with a beautiful building with all the facilities we need for outreach.

I well remember the first New Year Convention we had, how God blessed us, the first meeting finished at 1 am. And when we went outside Car engines were frozen, there were drifts of four feet of snow and all the major roads were closed for 3 days. We finished off with most of the folk sleeping on the floor at our home.

Guillermo and Sharon were with us from Ibiza, (Chris Wingfield's Daughter and son in law), Doug was legless as usual, this time on crutches with a broken leg, what a time we had. The Spirit flowed and many were filled with the Glory in those three days.

We want to give thanks to God that He has enabled the Glory work to grow locally as well as globally, we are looking forward to the coming years as we reach out for the Great Revival God has promised for

THE GLORY PRAYER NETWORK

"The Glory Prayer Network", (www.gloryprayer.net) has been launched this year as part of the Glory People ministry. The Lord laid it upon Alan Churchill's heart and those involved in the ministry to launch this network on the internet that would spearhead prayer amongst the Glory People. Anyone can log on and submit a prayer request to the Network. Only those in the prayer chain will read the prayer request so it remains confidential among those interceding for the particular need. So far, the Glory Prayer Network has brought greater unity in the Glory Way and spiritual support to those involved. It has also been a way to keep the lines of communication flowing in the fellowship between our conventions.

It is very encouraging for those of us in the prayer chain who receive the prayer requests coming in and hear of the subsequent answers to prayer. Mark 11:24 Therefore I say to you, whatever things you ask when you pray believe that you receive them and you will have them. We already have some great testimonies of answered prayer; we know the praise reports are building the faith in the prayer chain to believe for greater things. Especially an outpouring of the Holy Ghost in the conventions when we meet. As we continue to pray for the upcoming needs, we will be encouraged to believe for a greater anointing in our lives and exercise our authority in the Kingdom of God. John 15:7 If you abide in Me and my words abide in you, you ask what you will and it will be done for you. Abiding in Christ is fellowship when the word has the centre of our hearts and affections. As we pray we are getting to know our Father. What an awesome opportunity to see His power displayed in the hearts we pray for: that they would experience His mercy and goodness in their lives and be permanently changed.

CHRIS WINGFIELD

Chris Wingfield went to Glory in December. He loved the Lord with all his heart. His Mum and Dad were staunch Elim folk; his Dad was a lay preacher. Chris was raised in Elim, met his wife Connie in Elim and became an accredited preacher himself. Then he met Henri Staples and the Glory Folk and that changed his life yet again.

I first met Chris and Connie when they moved to Long Eaton with their son David and daughter Sharon, when they bought the fish and chip shop near where I lived; it was the mid 60's. They transformed the place and had a very successful business. David took me home to talk to me about Bible prophecy; I was intrigued, but not convinced.

Chris and Connie's hospitality was legendary and they welcomed me into their home, in fact it became my second home and they my surrogate family. Every time I saw Chris he talked to me about the Lord and encouraged me to go to one of his meetings. Connie was more gentle but nevertheless convinced that my life would be better for knowing Jesus. I later discovered that Chris' unrelenting witness was not exclusive to me, when he finally did get me to a meeting and the Lord touched my heart, I realised that everyone he met he talked to about Jesus. Hitchhikers, work colleagues, people in the street, everyone heard about Jesus. I don't know how many lives he touched but it must have been many. He was a faithful witness.

Chris regularly went with Henri, Ron Wray and many others taking meetings all over the UK, including Northern Ireland. I remember driving many happy miles in his VW Caravette not arriving home until the early hours of the following morning after a 'humdinger' of a meeting in Bishop Auckland, Peterhead or Bournemouth. What many folk didn't see was Chris getting home from his job at Raleigh Cycles and getting under his Caravette to make sure it was in good condition for the next trip. We could fill a book with all that happened during that time; they are such happy memories of lives changed, people blessed.

Sharon tragically died in a car accident in Spain. Chris and Connie were devastated but they clung to the Lord they knew and loved; from what I saw they never wavered.

Chris took over the running of the meetings at Fiskerton for quite a few years and many folk were gloriously changed under the ministry that went forward there.

Chris and Connie were always a blessing. Connie a wonderful pianist and Chris a fiery preacher. They could both set a meeting alight. What I remember most about them both was their unselfish generosity. Giving time to others, hospitality and kindness were the currency of their lives. I shall be eternally grateful for the time and love they gave to me for without Chris's faithful witness I cannot say where I would be now. That love was also extended to Suzy and our son Paul.

Chris can truly claim: 'I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith, henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness . . .'

MIND YOUR OWN BUSINESS

Taken from DVD 70

Aren't we a privileged lot? I had somebody come in to see me the other day, at my clinic. He walked in, stood in front of me and said, "Hello Doug, how are you?" I said, "I'm alright thank you," and he says, "It's a funny thing, three people that I've known have recently just passed on. One went with a pulmonary embolism, another with pneumonia, and another with septicaemia." As I stood there listening to him I thought, "Yes Lord I've had all three recently and I'm here to tell the tale."

At Christmas I had an operation on my leg for a varicosity problem. Everything seemed to go well and it seemed to heal up ok. It wasn't until about three months down the line that my leg started to swell up. I saw the consultant and he wasn't perturbed. In May my family put on a small party to celebrate my 65th birthday. I got up to say a few words of thanks to people for coming, and said how I never thought I'd reach my 65 birthday. I was about ten days short of 65. Three days later I got this terrible pain in my leg. When I got up for work then, suddenly, I found that I couldn't breathe. In great haste, Lily took me to A&E. When I got there everything broke loose. A consultant walked in and said, "You've treated my wife," and I'm lying there thinking, "Oh! I hope she's alright." I managed to ask how she was and he told me the treatment had done her the world of good. That was a good start. I had a scan and he came back again, saying, "I'm sorry to tell you that you've had a multiple pulmonary embolism." A couple days later, I kept saying to the staff, "I'm shaking a lot." "It's rigor," they'd say. "No, no, you've got a temperature," which I knew I had. I said, "It's not just that." Coming out of the loo that evening, I could hardly walk and started shaking all over. I got back into bed, and passed out. A nurse came in around 11pm, and she fortunately tried to wake me to give me some pills. The miracle is they don't tend to bother to wake you, but she couldn't stir me and called the doctors and they managed to bring me to consciousness. They rang Lily and told her it was touch and go and started intensive work on me and stuck this thing over my head like a garrotte. I thought they were trying to strangle me. It was to force air into my lungs. Apparently I'd got double pneumonia, I was very poorly; I remember coming in and out of consciousness and I remember praying to God saying, "Father you've used me to bless others, now just touch this vessel." It just came to me, "Mind your own business". Which rather encouraged me really because what was said to me was, "It was absolutely nothing to do with me but everything to do with Him." I remember putting my hand out and He actually got hold of my hand, Jesus held my hand and I felt the power of God in me. Then I saw something tremendous. I actually saw the colour black. We look at black in a negative way but the colour was shot through with piercings of light. How many times have I stood up and said, "There is no light without darkness." There is no one thing without the other. Without the darkness you won't see the light. It's the light that dispels the darkness. Praise God.

I came through that experience. Then all of a sudden my arm and legs swelled up and went red. Apparently I had got septicaemia, but God brought me through that. The Spirit of God works in quite amazing ways. Wherever we find ourselves, there we have to be content, and I must say that every day that passed I kept getting a different chorus. I'd just wake up singing a totally different chorus. I used to share them with Lily when she came to visit. 'I met with the Master and sat at His feet', was one that expressed just how I felt. I was sat at His feet the whole time. The amazing thing was, though, I was able to minister, as people were coming and going. I ministered to six different people without even realising it. At one stage I thought to myself and said to the Father, "You keep bring all these addicts and alcoholics in."

On one occasion, I was feeling a bit groggy myself, this bloke walked in and sat on the next bed. He was facing me and he started to cry. I said, "What's the matter?" And he said, "Nobody understands, nobody understands," and I said, "Well there's an ear to hear if you want to talk to me." He said, "No, it's a waste of time, my father, mother and family can't be dealing with me." He was in his early 40s, his parents in their early 70s. He said, "You won't understand, I'm actually a chronic alcoholic." He started to talk about all the people that he couldn't stand. His wife and his children weren't allowed to see him and I said to him, "Listen, son, what you have to do is to forgive those you think have hurt you and then forget about it. The next important thing to do is to forgive yourself, and to love yourself. Once you start loving yourself you will start to look outwards and begin to love others, then live a day at a time, living for today, not for tomorrow or what has been. "Are you listening to me?" He said, "I am, I am." His folks came in the following night and his mother walked up to my bed. She got hold of my hand tears in her eyes and said, "No one has ever talked to my son as you did yesterday, nobody talked to him."

It's how we talk is it? It's how we are. I didn't talk to him any different from what you would do, but, you know, that man didn't meet with Douglas, he met with the Master, he actually sat at his feet. God was using my vessel. Lily talked to him many weeks later. He said that he'd been dry for 71 days, I talked to him on the phone later and he's now been over 100 days dry, so you see God can deliver, without people actually realising what is happening. I laid my life down many years ago on the altar and you see it can be a dangerous thing when we say, 'Take my life, let it be consecrated Lord to Thee.' When we do that, sometimes we don't know what we are saying. He takes us at our word and sometimes we experience very unusual things. The road that we take is winding, because of our own thought process, and we wander along the narrow path, we wander in and out, but He's always there to pull us into line again. Whilst I was in hospital, it came to me, that sometimes we go through experiences whereby He can use us to a greater degree, not necessarily with the masses but one to one. It's so strongly in me now this message, He is in you, brother and sister. You do not have to be who you aren't, you do not have to try to do His work. Mind your own business, let Him do His work through you. He can use you, brother and sister, wherever you are, in whatever measure, in whatsoever way. He doesn't just love you and me, He loves all those searching souls out there. A lot of people are in a void. Counsel them. Just be with them because that's how He will change them if we'll let Him. He will not change them if we batter them over the head with the bible and quote scripture at them. There is a time and a place to minister in that fashion. I've always found it just happens, when the time is right and He has pre-eminence.

PAKISTAN EVANGELICAL OUTREACH

home in November, we have forwarded donations from two generous sources to equip the second school and make up food parcels for poorer families in the surroundings areas.

We taught and preached at both churches and schools, plus an open-air rally was booked for us to take in conjunction with the Salvation Army. This had to be diverted at the last minute because of the troubles in Lahore, to an enclosed courtyard for safety - with an armed guard. One man was saved at this meeting. Praise the LORD. Please pray for the Christians in Pakistan at this turbulent time that God will stay the hand of the enemy and that HIS people will be protected.

Word spread that we were in the vicinity and many sick persons began to come for prayer and treatment for minor ailments. Some needed wound dressings and we started a morning clinics and prayer ministry. Fortunately we had brought a wide variety of general medicines and dressings for first aid purposes and all the supply was used by the day we were going home. Mild analgesics were helpful for those who cannot afford to visit a doctor. The highlight and culmination of the visit was opening the Bible School on the last day of the second week. The students were presented with their own Bible, pens and notepads. Derek and I had the awesome privilege of teaching the first lessons of their first week and GOD the Holy Spirit met with us in a special way. Nineteen people received salvation and nine of them were baptized in waters the last Sunday before we left for home.

Pakistani people are kind and hospitable and are very grateful to those who come to encourage and visit them.

Pastor Elisha has two young enthusiastic Assistant Pastors, Pastor Ezekiel and his wife Sana and Pastor Nazir who is single and aided by his family. His Father is an elder in the Church at Kalig Naga

The students of Hollybush Bible School look forward to next Nov-Dec. when their course finishes and we will, God willing, attend for their Graduation ceremony to present Certificates, Diplomas and prizes.

Despite being invited to Sialkot, it seemed "Good to us and to the Holy Ghost" to remain where we were for the entire visit. Martial law was declared just before we left and many restrictions had already been enforced. On this occasion it was unwise to travel too far away from the compound.

Praise GOD we arrived home safely before the troubles worsened. GOD IS FAITHFUL. P.S. Anyone who feels moved to help with this outreach can contact us via the Glory Office.

Pakistan is not the place for the faint hearted. So for those who wish to go there to visit, it is imperative to know, that you know, that you know, God has indeed called you there. We discovered these truths on our first trip to Sialkot in 2006, and, when invited again to Lahore, we were in much prayer beforehand. Lahore was completely different to what we expected. God always surprises and stretches us constantly. We were met at the airport by a delegation of 18 happy excited children and pastors from the schools and churches. Smiling faces, giggling girls and noise, lots of noise. The minibus did not look big enough to hold us all, plus our luggage, consequently we were packed in like sardines. On arrival at the first school at Kalig Nagar and our accommodation there was more excitement and many people greeted us with beautiful rose petals and neck garlands. A very moving experience.

Pastor Elisha Samuel was our host for the entire trip and is someone who visits our Church Camp at Hollybush Christian Fellowship regularly every year to raise awareness of the needs of the school children and the Churches. One church is in Elisha's house in Youhnbabad and the other is a few miles away in Kalig Nagar where we stayed. The School Assembly was next to our room and commenced at 7.30am. We awakened to children singing praises to our great GOD. Songs like: God is so good, God is so good, God is so good. He's so good to me. Hallelujah.

This is from children whose parents have very little or, in some cases, nothing at all. Challenging to us, isn't it? When children enroll at the school for free education they are Promised uniforms, and we had the pleasure of helping with that, Providing them with these and seeing them go home in smart little blue shirts and ties. Since coming

TESTIMONY FROM PAKISTAN During our 2007 visit to Pakistan we prayed for a Pastor's son from a village outside of Lahore, Pakistan. We prayed for him for about three weeks every day, Then after the Bible School teaching (he was one of the students), he manifested with a fit in a way we have never seen before. He was so wild it took four people to hold him so he would not hurt himself. We rebuked the spirit in Jesus' Name, but it seemed that nothing had happened. The news from Pakistan several months on is that he has not had a fit since, Praise the Lord. In the past he was very badly burned as the evil spirit had thrown him into the fire many times just like the story that Jesus told in Mark Ch 9. What a change Jesus can make!

Derek and Margaret Wheldon.

PAKISTAN VISIT

Becky and Ahtsham (Sham) Shazad had the privilege of going to visit some churches in Lahore, Pakistan where his family live. Here is a short extract from an interview about this event:

"The Christians in Pakistan are very hungry for the word of God, prayer and to see the power and demonstration of the Holy Spirit and are very committed to their faith. We were agreeably suprised as every church we went to was packed out with people and this clearly showed that God was moving in this predominantly Muslim country. The hospitality was amazing - everyone wanted to shake our hands and meet us. We even had petals thrown over us! We both preached (Sham interpreted for Becky - her Urdu is not that great!), prayed for the sick and we saw God move. People were queuing up all around the church."

GHANA OUTREACH

It is a blessing to know that as we meet on Sunday morning, that all around the world others are meeting to lift up the name of Jesus in Spirit and in truth. The Glory Cathedral in Ghana is such a place. We are so blessed to know them and I have the privilege of going to visit them again later this year. We hear that the church is growing and the total number of the church (including the branch churches) is increasing every week. When I speak to Bishop James, he tells me that he wants to see souls saved for the kingdom. His church are bringing in the sheaves...Hallelujah!

We are blessed in the Glory Way to be able to help a church that is reaching out with the gospel of Jesus Christ. We can commit our prayer and support to this ministry as they reach out under the leadership of Bishop James. The building work is continuing for the cathedral and it is amazing to see what a difference your financial support has made to this wasteground, on which now stands a building that towers above the local area. I am believing I will one day arrive at the airport and when I say 'Glory Cathedral', the taxi man will take me there without any questions!

As you can see from the photos below, things are happening in Accra, Ghana, at the new church Bishop James is building. The roof is on and the congregation is growing fast.

We are now fundraising to build the youth hall at the back of the church and also the room over the entrance so that the front and rear walls of the church can be finished. The front and rear walls have to be built on the second storey floor which is spanned over the two rooms. The estimated cost is £12,000 to get the walls finished, so if you would like to contribute please contact us at the Glory Office.

Bishop James and his wife Theresa have asked us to thank all of you who have contributed to getting the building to the point where it is in use daily for the congregation.

They are hoping to able to be with us for the Summer Convention at Walton on the Naze in August.
